

Program Overview

Programs for families begin in fourth grade and continue through high school. Programs involve parents or primary care giver and their child, teen or emerging young adult.

Lent and Advent programs available for younger children.

Each program is two hours long, held during the evening or weekends.

Parents and child will hear age appropriate stories, real-life and scripture. During the stories, there will be opportunities for the parent and child to have small conversations with each other about the message and experiences of the story.

Examples of small conversations include:

- When do you feel most self-confident?
- Who has God put in your life to help you?
- What kind of friend do you want to be?
- Who do you know who is good at loving?
- What do you do to find peace?
- Where in your life do you find rest?
- Whose advice do you trust?

The most popular programs are for seventh, eighth and ninth grade students. Click on the section for more information.
